

Exceptional opportunities

The Windsor Central School District has over 1,800 students enrolled in five different schools. The district employs 320 dedicated instructional and non-instructional staff members. Windsor offers a full array of comprehensive special education and academic intervention services and programs, elementary enrichment, after-school programming and a robust summer program. In addition, the district provides the opportunity for students to enroll in a wide range of courses including college credit bearing, AP classes, Project Lead The Way and other opportunities for advanced studies. Every teacher in the Windsor Central School District has committed to effective implementation of the Common Core standards through their collaborative PLC teams. The district has made substantial investments in instruction technology and is a leader in technological advances. The district partnered with the Community Foundation for South Central New York to establish the Black Knight Fund and the Black Knight Legacy Fund to support the Windsor Central School District and its students.

Safe learning environment

Giving students the opportunity to learn in a safe and fun environment is a top priority at Windsor. The district has implemented the OLWEUS anti-bullying program, through both direct student instruction and professional development for staff. Students and staff have learned key elements of bullying prevention, the warning signs of bullying and everyone's responsibility to take an active role in preventing bullying before it happens.

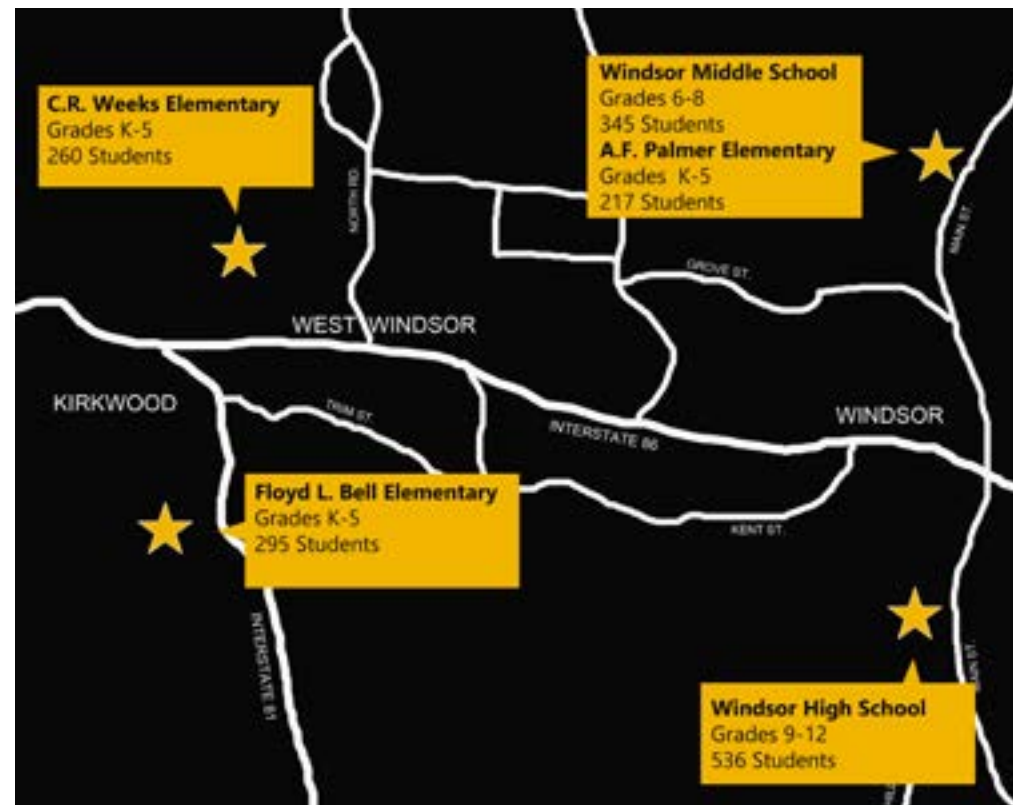

Efforts to bring technology into every classroom in the district have been very successful. Every student has the opportunity to use technology on a day-to-day basis. Every classroom throughout the district has a rich variety of technology for student use, including iPads, ChromeBooks, SmartBoards and Dash & Dot Robots. The availability and differentiation of technology gives students the chance to learn at a higher level and prepares them for the future.

Places to learn

The Windsor Central School District is comprised of three elementary schools, one middle school and one high school. Each school maintains small class sizes and student ratios. This gives teachers the opportunity to connect with the students and understand their needs. Teachers at Windsor strive to provide the best individualized education possible to each one of their students.

"This whole place embodies everything I believe in as a teacher, everything is about the kids. It's student centered, and we're constantly asking how do we do the best for the kids? And everybody believes that."

—Denise Lang, elementary teacher

Committed community

The Windsor Central School District covers 110 square miles and includes the towns of Kirkwood, Windsor, Colesville and Sanford. Windsor is a friendly, family-orientated community that offers a small-town feel. The district enjoys outstanding community and parent support. Families are actively engaged in all aspects of our schools, including music, the arts and the various athletic programs.

"All the community comes out to support the kids from the young kids to the older kids. This community is very involved in the district"

—Jessica Phillips, Windsor parent
